

I think Morrie was a hero because he was very brave. He was a good man, and he loved the children in Vietnam. He was a hero who earned the Distinguished Service Cross by trying to save other people's lives. I would like to be like him because he is special to me because he was so brave. He has all the Army Values: Loyalty, Honor, Integrity, Personal Courage, Respect, Duty, and Selfless Service. I am glad that my school was named after a man like Morris McBride
