News for the Week

The gingerbread man has come to preschool. Hope we can catch that quick little cookie. The children will have the opportunity to make gingerbread men in the art center and to "bake" them in home living. What's that smell?? It's gingerbread- we will be slipping it into play dough!

On Friday, December 19th we will have our Holiday Celebration. The children will be able to enjoy some special activities added to the centers that day. We will be face painting that day so if you do not want your child's face painted, please let us know. There is also a yummy smell is coming from the sensory and science table? Is the gingerbread man in there?
